

All In One

The All In One Aluminium Ramp Transition Profile is able to get all the work done by all floor transition profiles alone and designed only for Mox profile. All problems caused by the transition of same or different floor coverings can be solved with All In One Aluminium Ramp Transition Profile.

With its adjustable height level, which is not in any other ramp transition profiles, eliminates the height difference between two floor coverings at different heights.

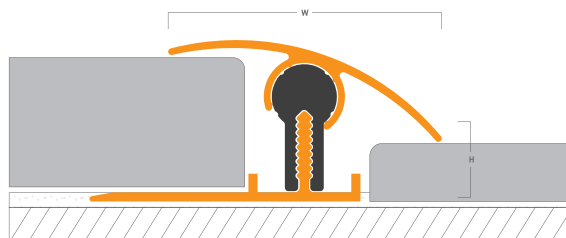

All In One Aluminium Ramp Transition Profile, will provide an aesthetic look to your interior or exterior places and complete the whole decoration by having wide range of color alternatives and surface options as well as being your solution partner.
